

5th graders! I miss you guys!

I have included a page from the great kindness challenge. As a way to cheer up your family members and yourself, I thought it would be fun to try doing some of the items on the list to keep you occupied and thinking of others during this difficult time. This checklist was created before the virus, so some of the activities would not be appropriate to do during this time of social distancing. Remember, if possible you should only be around the people who live in your house and should remain 6 feet away from others if you must be out in public.

Be safe and please email me if you do any of these activities or just to say hi!
